

This template is for emails that are sent to customers when an order is fulfilled. The email will typically contain a message describing the next steps for the order - for example, delivery details - as well as a URL that references a web page where order details are shown.

See TemplateOrderPlaced: the details are the same, except for the template name.